3. Implementation Status of Investment Projects.

During the year, the Company did not initiate any new investment projects but continued with the following existing projects:

- + Mold and printing cylinder project funded by Chinese Government's ODA (hereinafter referred to as ODA): The outstanding overdue principal as of December 31, 2024, was VND 38,281,026,495 (equivalent to CNY 11,488,731.13). The Company is still obligated to fulfill its debt repayment in the order of interest, fees, and then principal. This investment project has been ineffective since its early years due to outdated and non-operational machinery and equipment. Additionally, the Company's revenue sources are limited because tenants either fail to pay or pay very late, while the Company continues to bear annual costs for loan interest, exchange rate differences, and storage/relocation fees when equipment is returned or rental contracts expire.
- + BOPP plastic film investment project: This is a specialized product that requires strict technical standards, testing conditions, and multiple rigorous evaluation phases, which has hindered the project's progress.

- Regarding Business Performance Results:

+ Total Revenue: The actual total revenue in 2024 was only 80.07% of the 2024 plan approved by the General Shareholders' Meeting (GSM) and 80.82% compared to the same period last year. Specifically, net revenue for 2024 increased by 6.34% compared to the same period last year, reaching 77.43% of the 2024 plan.

+ Profit After Tax: The actual profit after tax for 2024 exceeded the planned target for 2024 as well as the result from the same period last year.

* Objective Factors:

(1) Global Political Situation in 2022 and 2023: This caused inventory prices imported at the end of 2022 and early 2023 to drop, continuing to affect 2024: (i) The Russia-Ukraine war is still ongoing, pushing the world into a state of conflict between the West and Russia, with a severe economic recession, food crises, and oil price surges; (ii) The conflict between Israel and Hamas led to a maritime shipping crisis in the Red Sea; (iii) Tensions between South Korea and North Korea raised global concerns about nuclear war; (iv) China's consistent policy of annexing Taiwan; (v) The aftermath of the COVID-19 pandemic... All of these contributed to a severe global economic recession, with halted production, difficult goods circulation, and soaring shipping costs.

(2) Domestic Economic Impact from Global Developments: The domestic economy faced significant difficulties, with the production output of many major customers of the company sharply declining, and market demand decreasing.

\ Subjective Factors:*

(1) Commercial Business Risks from Customer Payment Delays: The business faced higher risks due to delayed payments from customers. Customers with high import volumes and large profit margins had payment delays of 30 to 60 days. Therefore, to mitigate risks, the Company proactively adjusted its sales targets. Additionally, in 2024, the Company focused on selling existing inventory and only imported goods when there were contracts and confirmed orders. Due to the limitation on new imports, the imported volume was not enough to offset business costs, leading to lower efficiency in new goods sales in 2024.

(2) During the year, the Company reversed provisions for inventory write-downs amounting to approximately 9 billion VND.

- Profit from Joint Venture Units: The profit from joint ventures for the year was only 28.4% of the amount in the same period last year.

- Cost Breakdown:

+ Financial Costs: The financial costs in 2024 were significantly reduced, only 14.66% of the amount compared to the same period last year. This was primarily due to the provision for investment impairment at the subsidiary (Vietnam Phuoc Plastic Joint Stock Company) in 2023, with the provision being 15.43 billion VND. Additionally, during the year, the Company focused on repaying ODA loans to reduce interest expenses.

+ Selling Expenses: Although sales revenue increased by 6.34% compared to the same period last year, selling expenses decreased by 21% due to the Company's strategy of delivering directly to customers without shipping goods to warehouses, which reduced warehousing and transportation costs.

+ Administrative Expenses: Administrative expenses decreased by 13.21% compared to 2023, mainly due to the reversal of doubtful debt provisions from Thang Long Plastic Joint Stock Company amounting to 1.49 billion VND.

- Accounts Receivable: The short-term receivables from customers as of December 31, 2024, amounted to 63.97 billion VND, which was equivalent to the same period last year. The largest debts were from the following customers:

- Van Don Plastic Joint Stock Company: 47.35 billion VND.
- Viet Phuoc Plastic Joint Stock Company (subsidiary): 4.51 billion VND.
- Thang Long Plastic Joint Stock Company: 1.49 billion VND.

These customers primarily owed for ODA machinery and equipment rentals, which accounted for 83.44% of the total short-term receivables. Among these debts, the largest debt was from Van Don Plastic Joint Stock Company, which continued to show no changes in 2024 (this entity filed for bankruptcy procedures in early 2021).

1.2. Financial Activities and Divestment:

- The Company has planned to divest from Van Don Plastic Joint Stock Company, but this has not been implemented yet because the Ho Chi Minh City People's Court opened bankruptcy proceedings for Van Don Plastic Joint Stock Company on January 26, 2021. Due to reliance on the resolution from the competent authorities, the divestment, along with the legal solutions the Company is currently pursuing with Van Don Plastic Joint Stock Company, has not shown any progress during the year.

- Another receivable from Thang Long Plastic Joint Stock Company is the investment contribution in the project “Headquarters, Product Showroom, Parking House, and Residential Buildings for Sale to Employees,” valued at 21 billion VND, in the form of debt offset. Although the investor has signed a principle agreement for the transfer, it has not been implemented due to changes in the project's procedures. The Company has worked with the project's investor to receive updates on the project's progress. However, there has been no change in the project this year, nor has there been an agreement on how to handle this receivable.

1.3. Research and Training Activities:

The Company received a notice regarding the termination of the tax code for the Plastic Research and Training Center from the Hanoi Tax Department. During the year, the Company completed the documentation and submitted it to the Hanoi Department of Science and Technology for review and approval regarding the dissolution of the Center.

1.4. Other Activities:

- The Company successfully organized the General Shareholders' Meeting, ensuring the regular and extraordinary information disclosure as required by the Company's Charter and current legal regulations.

- The General Director's Board issued decisions assigning the production and business plan, clearly assigning responsibilities to each unit, department, and individual in accordance with regulations and procedures. The management, monitoring, and evaluation of business operations were conducted regularly, and annual reports were compiled.

2. Business Production Plan for 2025

2.1. Basis for Formulating the 2025 Plan:

(1) In 2025, the global political situation will still be unstable. For the raw materials currently in business, although there has been an increase compared to the previous quarter, there is still a significant difference between the current inventory cost price and the cost of imported goods from 2022 and 2023. Therefore, the Company's policy is to focus only on consuming the existing inventory. As for importing new raw materials, the Company will only proceed when profitability is assured (having covered all related sales costs), while also avoiding risks in selling under such difficult conditions.

(2) Vietnam Plastic Joint Stock Company plans to settle the ODA loan with the Development Bank before holding the Annual General Shareholders' Meeting (AGM) in 2025.

(3) Interest income from deposits will decrease significantly compared to 2024 due to the implementation of the ODA loan repayment plan and the anticipated dividend payment for 2024 to the capital-contributing shareholders.

(4) The largest contribution to the Company's performance will come from profit-sharing from joint ventures in which the Company participates, particularly TPC Vina Plastic and Chemical Co., Ltd. However, the business performance of TPC Vina Plastic and Chemical Co., Ltd. saw a significant decline in 2024, with several months of production halts and is expected to continue facing difficulties in the near future.

(5) Revenue from providing services will decrease compared to 2024 due to the expiration of ODA machinery and equipment lease contracts. The revenue for the year will mainly come from warehouse and office rental.

(6) Regarding the Company's operational costs: These are primarily fixed costs that the Company must pay throughout the year. However, in 2025, there are expected increases in some costs, such as land tax, land lease, and land management fees; external service costs like audit fees and fees for valuing the business of Vietnam Phuoc Plastic Joint Stock Company, etc.

2.2. Company's Business Production Plan for 2025

The Company has developed its 2025 plan with the goal of ensuring the livelihood and employment for employees, as well as safeguarding and growing capital for shareholders. The specifics are as follows:

No.	Indicator	Unit	2025 Plan
1.	Total Revenue	Billion VND	56.01
2.	Net Revenue	Billion VND	38.99
3.	Profit Before Tax	Billion VND	9.50
4.	Profit After Tax	Billion VND	9.50

2.3. Key Tasks and Solutions to Achieve the Plan

To accomplish the above plan, the Company needs to build and implement comprehensive solutions and maintain a flexible strategy to respond to any fluctuations:

- Strengthen management of working capital: Use assets effectively, avoid excess or non-profitable assets; minimize inventory, manage receivables well, and control costs related to assets.

- Consider solutions to optimize the cost of capital usage, maintain the expected profit margin, and minimize financial risks with the goal of capital safety and growth.

- Create a working environment that encourages creativity and personal development; apply technology in management to reduce costs, improve labor productivity, minimize errors, and increase revenue growth.

- Expand the distribution network, including both traditional retail and online channels; strengthen forecasting, research, and analysis of the global and domestic plastic industry market to adjust sales strategies accordingly.

- Establish key performance indicators (KPIs) to assess the progress of the plan, track and evaluate regularly to adjust strategies in a timely manner.

- Actively follow up and implement measures to handle overdue and difficult-to-collect debts in order to recover capital for the Company. Minimize the emergence of new bad debts.

- Review, develop, amend, and supplement internal regulations and processes to align with corporate governance, facilitating swift and effective business operations.

- Enhance capital management at invested units; strengthen internal auditing at subsidiaries and affiliated units.

- Improve management capacity to ensure compliance during operations. Fully implement corporate governance regulations in accordance with legal requirements; ensure transparency and public information disclosure to shareholders and investors.

2.4. Proposed investment projects to be implemented in the coming years

- Investment in the construction of a waste plastic recycling plant: After researching the market for this product, Vietnam Plastic Joint Stock Company sees the investment in this project as necessary for the following reasons:
  - It stems from the need to process plastic waste recovered from industry and consumer use, while also utilizing the waste as a plastic raw material in production.
  - This is a high-tech project related to recycling waste.
  - The equipment used will be entirely new and based on American technology.
  - Funding for the project will be arranged by the bank.
  - It will provide employment opportunities for workers
- Investment in the construction of an insulator chain production plant: This is one of the two high-tech programs of the Government, producing polymer insulator chain products with a silicone rubber coating, which will replace the current domestic demand that is still met through imports. This project, with an investment capital of approximately 70 billion VND, is expected to be 30% funded by the state budget.
- Investment in the construction of a biodegradable plastic bag production plant: The novelty, advantages, and advancement of biodegradable plastic production technology lie in the fact that it is not derived from petroleum but from biological raw materials, combined with materials like starch, paper, and sugar, to create 100% biodegradable plastic products. The technology line for producing biodegradable plastics aims to replace traditional plastics and reduce environmental pollution. Vinaplast has completed research on biodegradable plastics in previous years and is conducting experimental applications.
- Investment in the construction of a BOPET film production plant: Through its investment in establishing YoulChon Vina Plastic Joint Stock Company to produce BOPP plastic films and its direct involvement in management, Vietnam Plastic Joint Stock Company has recognized the necessity of investing in this project for the following reasons:
  - The current consumption of this packaging material only meets about 70% of demand, primarily in the South, while there is no production plant in the North.
  - The company can leverage its existing infrastructure.
  - The company has experience in managing and operating production.
  - The project will provide employment opportunities for workers.
  - The company has already engaged with businesses that require this packaging.

Depending on the actual situation, market demand, and the scale of the project, Vietnam Plastic Joint Stock Company will submit the investment project for approval by the relevant authorities in accordance with regulations.
