II. COMPANY OPERATIONS IN 2024

1. Overview

In 2024, PV2 operated in a recovering Vietnam economic environment, characterized by controlled inflation, record export growth, and increasing foreign investment. Vietnam's GDP increased by 7.09%, making it a strong performer in the region. The country also actively pursued reforms, improved its institutions, adopted digital technologies, and developed tourism. However, challenges such as global economic instability, inflation risks, reliance on export activities and fluctuations in the stock and real estate markets significantly influenced business outcomes, posing challenges to the participants

The Board of Management of PV2 has implemented the following solutions:

a. Optimizing Business and investment activities:

- Focus on core projects: PV2 focused on long term solutions optimizing all of its resources, prioritized key investment projects in which the company serves as the primary investor, ensuring optimal resource allocation and capital utilization.
- The company divested from underperforming investments and redirected funds to potential projects on the basis of ensuring both capital efficiency and preservation for the long run.
- Flexible securities management: PV2 implemented a dynamic approach to securities trading, restructured the portfolio to align with market trends, executed timely trades to enable good returns while following risk management principles.

b. Enhancing corporate governance: Transparency and Accountability:

PV2 adhered strictly to regulatory requirements for business, financial and other information disclosure, fostering trust among shareholders and stakeholders.

c. Strengthening financial management and debts/receivables recovery:

- Cost control: The Company continued to implement rigorous cost control measures on operating expenses and optimized the efficient allocation of financial resources.
- Debts/receivables recovery: The Company intensified debts/receivables recovery efforts for outstanding amounts, reducing the risk of bad debts and stabilizing cash flows for business operations

d. Business performance results in 2024 were as follows:

b. Human resources

The company fully complies with the state policies and regulations for employees while coordinating with the labor union to implement additional welfare benefits such as benefits for female employees, benefits for employees' children, allowances, or other forms of care for employees' families.

3. Investment activities and project implementation

a. Residential Project in Long Tan and Phu Hoi, Nhon Trach – Dong Nai Province

In 2024, the Company successfully completed all necessary legal procedures to qualify the project for ownership transfer. On December 30, 2024, the Board of Directors approved the transfer of the entire residential project located in Long Tan and Phu Hoi communes, Nhon Trach district, Dong Nai province, to Tay Tay Nam Investment Joint Stock Company. Currently, the Company is coordinating with Tay Tay Nam Investment Joint Stock Company and relevant authorities in Dong Nai province to finalize the transfer procedures.

b. Housing Project for Employees of Dung Quat Oil Refinery, Quang Ngai Province

During the implementation of this project, PV2 consistently complied with all legal regulations and directives issued by the Provincial People's Committee and relevant authorities of Quang Ngai province. However, due to complexities in the investor selection process under the Law on Investment and challenges related to land use regulations under the Land Law, the progress of the Housing Project for Employees of Dung Quat Oil Refinery has been significantly delayed. The timeline and resolution remain unclear. As a result, the Company has decided to temporarily suspend the project until further instructions are provided by the Provincial People's Committee and relevant authorities.

- c. PV2 holds equity stakes in several joint ventures and associated companies involved in various projects. For these indirectly managed projects, PV2 maintains strict oversight, monitors progress closely, and encourages partners to expedite investment timelines. At the same time, the Company is actively pursuing potential buyers to transfer these projects, aiming to recover its invested capital.
- d. Financial Investment Activities: Despite significant volatility and unpredictability in the financial markets, the Company's financial investment activities performed well in 2024. Revenue from these activities exceeded the annual plan by 14.42%.

III. REPORTS AND ASSESSMENTS OF THE BOARD OF MANAGEMENT

1. The 2024 Performance Overview

The year 2024 posed significant challenges to PV2 due to the volatility of the global economy and specific difficulties in Vietnam real estate market. Despite implementing various strategic measures, the Company's business results fell short of expectations, achieving only 89.86% of the revenue target and incurring a loss of VND 14.21 billion.

a. Key factors affecting business performance

- Delays in project transfers: The inability to complete the transfer of the residential project in Long Tan and Phu Hoi, Nhon Trach, Dong Nai, had a substantial negative impact on revenue and profitability from real estate operations. This delay resulted in a loss of VND 17.71 billion for the project.
- Effective financial activities: The company's financial investment activities continued to yield positive outcomes, exceeding the target by 14.42%, demonstrating PV2's flexibility and adaptability in an unstable financial environment.

b. Corporate governance evaluation

- Transparency and accountability: PV2 upheld transparency by ensuring compliance with regulatory requirements for information disclosure and financial reporting, fostering trust among stakeholders.
- Risk management: PV2 actively identified and assessed potential risks, with a focus on real estate projects and financial investment activities, to minimize adverse impacts.
- Strategic adjustments and improvements: The BOD and CEO took decisive action to evaluate market challenges and implement strategic adjustments aimed at improving performance and ensuring financial resilience.

2. Financial situation:

a. Assets:

As of December 31, 2024, the Company's total assets amounted to VND 258,802,788,744, reflecting a 35.35% decrease from the asset value recorded on December 31, 2023. The cost of unfinished basic construction within this total was VND 35,129,248,244, accounting for 13.57%.

b. Liabilities:

- Liabilities debt situation and significant changes: As of December 31, 2024, the Company had no overdue liabilities that were unpayable. The ratio of Liabilities to Total Assets accounted for only 10.9% of Total Assets. The total liabilities value was VND 28,225,196,268, of which VND 1,292,852,516 represented advance payments from buyers.

- Analysis of overdue liabilities, impact of exchange rate differences on business results, and impact of interest rate differences: The Company had no overdue liabilities or significant exposure to exchange rate fluctuations.

3. Business Plan for 2025

On the basis of opportunity and risk assessment for the year of 2025, PV2's business plan is as follow:

a. Optimize operational efficiency and risk control:

- Complete the transfer of the residential area project in Long Tan and Phu Hoi, Nhon Trach, Dong Nai to free up capital for reinvestment in new projects.
- Strengthen risk management capabilities in real estate and financial investment activities.
- Enhance cost management's efficiency, maintain a stable cash flow to support operational needs.

b. Improve investment activities' efficiency:

- Improve the efficiency of securities trading activities by restructuring the investment portfolio and adopting a flexible trading strategy to maximize returns while managing risks effectively.
- Fully divest from underperforming investments and identify new opportunities that align with long-term strategies and ensure capital safety.
- Diversify the portfolio, reduce risk concentration
- Recruit and train high-quality personnel, expand partner network to support research and evaluation of new investment opportunities.

c. Enhance corporate governance:

- Ensure timely and accurate disclosure of financial and operational information to stakeholders.
- Enhance strategic planning capabilities, risk management proficiency, and adaptation of new technology through targeted training and development programs for management and staff.
- Strengthen and improve the internal governance system for better operational efficiency.
- Review and update internal policies to ensure transparency, fairness and to align with evolving corporate governance standards and legal requirements.

IV. ASSESSMENTS OF THE BOD OF THE COMPANY'S OPERATION

1. Assessments of the BOD of the company's operation

Despite business performance falling short of expectations, the BOD acknowledged that the CEO and other managers adhered to the Board's directives in 2024 operational activities. The target shortfall was primarily due to PV2's inability to finalize the ownership transfer for the Residential Area project in Long Tan and Phu Hoi, Nhon Trach - Dong Nai, which was projected to contribute to over 90% of PV2's revenue. Other business activities were executed effectively.

2. Assessments of the BOD of the CEO and other managers' performance

In 2024, the BOD effectively and comprehensively supervised the CEO and other managers to ensure the Company's operations adhered to legal requirements, the Company Charter, and the resolutions of the General Meeting of Shareholders. This supervision was conducted through the following means:

Supervision via reports and meetings:

- The Board mandated regular reports from the CEO and other managers on business performance, financial status, project progress, and emerging issues.
- During both regular and extraordinary meetings, the Board directly received reports, questioned and discussed with the CEO and other managers to evaluate performance and provide timely guidance.

Supervision via regular communication:

Beyond formal meetings, the BOD, the CEO and other managers maintained consistent communication through direct channels and telephone, ensuring continuous information updates and prompt resolution of issues.

Supervision of resolution and regulation implementation:

- The BOD closely monitored the implementation of its resolutions and regulations, ensuring their effectiveness and compliance.
- The Board of Directors assessed that the CEO and other managers operated within the defined delegation of authority between the Board and the CEO and successfully fulfilled their management and operational responsibilities in 2024.

3. BOD's operational plan for 2025

The BOD will prioritize enhancing business performance and further refining the corporate governance system to ensure operational efficiency. Key areas of focus include:

a. Enhancing business performance:

- Direct the Board of Management to concentrate on achieving the 2025 business plan's targets. Strengthen risk management, particularly financial risks, ensure stable cash flow, and improve the effectiveness of debt/receivables collection and lawsuits' enforcement.
- Review and divest from underperforming investments. Actively seek and capitalize on new investment opportunities, ensuring capital efficiency and safety.

b. Refining the corporate governance system:

- Review, revise, and improve the company's internal regulations and rules, ensuring compliance with current legislation and corporate governance's best practices.
- Ensure transparency and accountability in the operations of the BOD, CEO and other managers.
- Enhance the capabilities of the management team, ensuring they possess the necessary skills and qualities to meet the company's objectives.

Statement of Responsibility of the General Directors for the Financial Statements

The General Directors is responsible for preparing the Financial Statements that fairly and accurately reflect the Company's financial position, business performance, and cash flows for the year.

During the preparation of the Financial Statements, the Company's General Directors commits to complying with the following requirements:

- Establishing and maintaining internal controls as determined necessary by the Executive Board and General Directors to ensure that the preparation and presentation of the Financial Statements are free from material misstatements due to fraud or error;
- Selecting appropriate accounting policies and applying them consistently;
- Making reasonable and prudent assessments and estimates;
- Stating whether the applied accounting standards have been complied with and disclosing any material deviations that require explanation in the Financial Statements;
- Preparing and presenting the Financial Statements in compliance with the Accounting Standards, the Vietnamese Corporate Accounting System, and relevant legal regulations governing financial reporting;
- Preparing the Financial Statements on a going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to assume that the Company will continue its operations.

PV2 INVESTMENT JOINT STOCK COMPANY

Although as at December 31, 2024, the Company's accumulated loss amounted to VND (149,466,454,779), accounting for 40.02% of its owner's equity. In addition, significant provisions have been made for short-term trade receivables, other short-term receivables, long-term receivables, inventories, and long-term financial investments, indicating substantial impairment. These conditions indicate the existence of a material uncertainty that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern.

However, during 2024, the Company has actively implemented various measures and strategies to deploy investment projects in order to address its financial difficulties. As of December 31, 2024, the Company had no overdue debts that it was unable to repay, and the debt-to-total-assets ratio stood at 10.91%.

Based on these factors, the General Director believes that the above-mentioned issues do not affect the Company's ability to continue as a going concern.

The General Director ensures that accounting records are maintained to accurately and fairly reflect the Company's financial position at any given time and that the Financial Statements comply with the prevailing regulations of the State. Additionally, the Executive Board is responsible for safeguarding the Company's assets and implementing appropriate measures to prevent and detect fraud and other violations.

The General Director commits that the Financial Statements fairly and accurately reflect the Company's financial position as of December 31, 2024, as well as its business performance and cash flows for the fiscal year ending on the same date, in accordance with Accounting Standards, the Vietnamese Corporate Accounting System, and relevant legal regulations governing financial reporting.

Other commitments

The General Director commits that the Company complies with Decree 155/2020/ND-CP dated December 31, 2020, which provides guidance on corporate governance applicable to public companies. Additionally, the Company has not violated disclosure obligations as stipulated in Circular No. 96/2020/TT-BTC dated November 16, 2020, issued by the Ministry of Finance, guiding information disclosure in the securities market.

Auditor's opinion

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above give a true and fair view, in all material respects, of the financial position as at 31 December 2025, the business results and the cash flows for the fiscal year then ended of PV2 Investment Joint Stock Company in conformity with the Vietnamese Accounting Standards and System as well as other legal regulations related to the preparation and presentation of the financial statements.

Emphasis of Matter

- We draw attention to Notes V.3, V.5a, V.5b, and V.6 of the accompanying financial statements, which disclose that PV2 Investment Joint Stock Company has initiated legal proceedings against Viet Electronics and Telecommunications Joint Stock Company, Hoan My Gia Company Limited, Red Star Development Investment Joint Stock Company, and Mr. Le Van Tung. This matter continues to affect PV2's financial position in 2024. Our opinion is not modified in respect of this matter.

- As disclosed in Note VII.7, as at December 31, 2024, the Company's accumulated losses amounted to VND (149,466,454,779), accounting for 40.02% of owners' equity. Significant impairment provisions have been made, as detailed in the following notes: short-term trade receivables, other short-term receivables, long-term receivables (Notes V.3, V.5a, V.5b); real estate inventories (Note V.6); and long-term financial investments (Note V.2c). These conditions indicate the existence of material uncertainties that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern.

However, since 2017, the company's business operations have become profitable. As of December 31, 2024, the company had no overdue debts that it was unable to repay. Based on these factors, the General Director believes that the aforementioned issues do not affect the preparation of the financial statements under the going concern assumption.

These matters do not affect our unqualified opinion on the financial statements as stated above.

Interest, dividends, and profits relating to periods before the acquisition of trading securities are deducted from the carrying value of those securities. Interest, dividends, and profits arising after the acquisition date are recognized as revenue. Dividends received in the form of shares are tracked only as an increase in the number of shares held.

A provision for the decline in value of trading securities is made for each type of security that is traded on the market and has a market price lower than its historical cost. The fair value of trading securities listed on the stock exchange or traded on the UPCOM system is determined as the closing price at the end of the reporting period. If no trading activity occurred on the closing date, the fair value is based on the closing price of the most recent trading session prior to the reporting date.

Any increase or decrease in the provision for the decline in value of trading securities as at the reporting date is recognized in financial expenses.

Investments held to maturity

An investment is classified as held to maturity when the company intends and has the ability to hold it until its maturity date. Investments held to maturity include: time deposits in banks (including promissory notes and certificates of deposit), bonds, preferred stocks that the issuer is required to repurchase at a certain point in the future, loans held to maturity for the purpose of earning periodic interest, and other investments held to maturity.

Investments held to maturity are initially recognized at cost, which includes the purchase price and related transaction costs. After initial recognition, these investments are carried at recoverable value. Interest income from investments held to maturity after the purchase date is recognized in the Income Statement on an accrual basis. Interest accrued before the company holds the investment is deducted from the purchase price at the time of acquisition.

Investments in Associates

An associate is an entity over which the Company has significant influence but does not have control over its financial and operating policies. Significant influence is the power to participate in the financial and operating policy decisions of the investee but does not equate to control over those policies.

Investments in associates are initially recognized at cost, including the purchase price or capital contribution together with any directly attributable transaction costs. In cases where the investment is made in non-monetary assets, the cost of the investment is measured at the fair value of the non-monetary assets at the date of the transaction.

Investments in equity instruments of other entities

Investments in equity instruments of other entities include investments in equity instruments where the company does not have control, joint control, or significant influence over the investee.

Investments in equity instruments of other entities are initially recognized at cost, including the purchase price or the capital contribution, plus any direct costs related to the investment activity. Dividends and profits from periods prior to the purchase of the investment are accounted for as a reduction in the value of the investment itself.

4. Recognition of account receivables

The receivables of debts are recognized at their book value minus the provisions for doubtful debts. Receivables are classified as receivables from customers and other receivables according to the following principles:

- Receivables from customers represent commercial receivables arising from buying - selling transactions, including receivables on the sales proceeds from the export consignment to another unit.
- Other receivables reflect non-commercial receivables unrelated to purchase and sale transactions.

Provisions for bad debts are made for each bad debt based on the overdue age or estimated losses, specifically as follows:

- For overdue receivables:
 - 30% of the value for debts overdue from 6 months to less than 1 year.
 - 50% of the value for debts overdue from 1 year to less than 2 years.
 - 70% of the value for debts overdue from 2 years to less than 3 years.
 - 100% of the value for debts receivable from 3 years or more.
- For non-overdue but doubtful debts, the provision is based on estimated loss.

5. Inventories

Inventories are recognized at the lower of cost and net realizable value.

The cost of inventories is determined as follows:

- Raw materials, goods: include purchase costs and other directly attributable costs incurred to bring the inventory to its current location and condition.

Net realizable value is the estimated selling price of inventory in the ordinary course of production and business, less estimated costs to complete and estimated costs necessary to sell the inventory.

The value of inventories is determined using the weighted average cost method and accounted for using the perpetual inventory system.

Provision for devaluation of inventories is made at year-end when the net realizable value of inventories falls below their original cost.

6. Recognition and depreciation of fixed assets and investment properties

a) Recognition and depreciation of tangible fixed assets

Tangible fixed assets are determined by their historical costs less accumulated depreciation. Historical costs include all the expenses incurred to acquire the asset and bring it to its working condition. Other expenses incurred subsequent to the initial recognition are included in historical costs of fixed assets only if they enhance future economic benefits. Those which do not meet the above conditions will be recorded into expenses.

When a tangible fixed asset is sold or disposed, its historical cost and accumulated depreciation are written off, and gains or losses are included in income or expenses for the year.

Fixed assets are depreciated using the straight-line method over their estimated useful lives. The depreciation periods are estimated as follows:

Fixed assets	Number of years
Means of transportation, transmission	04 – 05
Office tools and equipment	03 – 05

b) Construction in progress

Construction in progress represents directly related costs (including interest expenses if any) to assets in construction progress, machinery and equipment being installed as well as expenses related to the repair of fixed assets in progress. These assets are recorded at cost and not depreciated.

c) Investment properties

Investment properties represent land use rights, depreciated using the straight-line method over the land lease term. The depreciation period is 40 years.

d) Intangible fixed assets

Intangible fixed assets include software programs.

7. Recognition of prepaid expenses

Tools and equipments

Tools and equipment in use are allocated to expenses on a straight-line basis over a period not exceeding three years.

8. Payables and accrued expenses

Payables and accrued expenses are recognized for amounts payable in the future related to goods or services already received. Accrued expenses are recognized based on reasonable estimates on the payable amount.

Payables are classified as commercial payables, accrued expenses and other payables according to the following principles:

- Payables to suppliers reflect commercial payables arising from purchases of goods, services or assets and the seller is independent from the Company, including payables when import through authorized receivers.
- Accrued expenses reflect payables for goods or services received from seller or provided to a buyer but unpaid due to lack of invoices or incomplete documentation, and payables to employees on vacation pay, accrued production and business expenses.
- Other payables reflect non-commercial payables unrelated to purchasing or selling goods or services.

9. Recognition of owner's equity

Owner's investment capital

Owner's investment capital is recognized based on actual contributions by shareholders.

Surplus equity

Surplus equity is recorded as the difference between the issue price and the par value of shares when first issued, additional issued or the difference between the re-issue price and the book value of treasury stocks. Expenses related to the additional issuance of shares and re-issuance of treasury shares are recorded as a decrease in surplus equity.

Funds

Appropriated as per resolutions of the GMS and used per the Company's Charter.

Treasury stocks

When the Company repurchases its issued shares, the payment including transaction-related costs is recorded as treasury stocks and recognized as a deduction in equity. When reissuance, the difference between the reissuance price and the book value of the treasury stocks is recorded as surplus equity.

Funds are appropriated and used per the Company's Charter.

Retained profit

Reflects business results (profit, loss) after corporate income tax and the distribution or offsetting of such earnings.

Dividends

Dividends are recognized as liabilities when declared.

10. Recognition of revenue

Revenue from sales of goods and products

Revenue from the sale of goods and finished products is recognized when the following conditions are simultaneously satisfied:

- The Company has transferred the majority of risks and rewards associated with the ownership of the goods or products to the buyer.
- The Company no longer retains control or managerial authority over the goods as the owner or has lost the ability to control the goods.
- Revenue can be measured reliably. When the contract stipulates that the buyer has the right to return the purchased goods or products under specific conditions, revenue is recognized only when such conditions no longer exist, and the buyer no longer has the right to return the goods or products (except in cases where the customer has the right to return goods in exchange for other goods or services).
- The Company has received or will receive economic benefits from the sale transaction.
- The costs associated with the sale transaction can be determined.

Revenue from service provision

Revenue from a service transaction is recognized when the outcome of the transaction can be measured reliably. If the service is performed over multiple periods, revenue is recognized for each period based on the completion of work as of the end of the accounting period. The outcome of a service transaction is determined when all the following conditions are met:

- Revenue can be measured reliably. When the contract stipulates that the buyer has the right to return the purchased service under specific conditions, revenue is only recognized when such conditions no longer exist, and the buyer no longer has the right to return the provided service.
- It is probable that economic benefits associated with the service transaction will flow to the entity.
- Identify the work completed at the end of the financial year.
- Determine the costs incurred for the transaction and the cost to complete the transaction.

Interest

Interest is recognized on an accrual basis and is determined based on the balance of deposit accounts and the actual interest rate applicable for each period.

11. Recognition of cost of goods sold

Cost of goods sold in the year was recorded in accordance with the revenue generated in the period and ensured compliance with the prudent principle.

For the cost of direct materials consumed which is over the normal lever, labor costs, and manufacturing overheads not allocated to finished products are recorded directly into the cost of goods sold (after deducting compensation, if any) even if the product or goods have not been identified as being sold.

The provision for inventory devaluation is accounted for in the cost of goods sold based on the quantity of inventory and the difference where the net realizable value is lower than the original cost of the inventory. When determining the volume of inventory subject to devaluation for provisioning, the accountant must exclude the inventory volume that has been contracted for sale (with a net realizable value not lower than the book value) but has not yet been delivered to the customer, provided there is solid evidence that the customer will not abandon the contract.

12. Recognition of financial expenses

This principle reflects financial operation costs, including expenses or losses related to financial investment activities, lending and borrowing costs, joint venture and affiliate investment expenses, losses from short-term securities transfer, transaction costs for securities sales, provisions for devaluation of trading securities, provisions for losses on investments in other entities, losses from foreign currency sales, and exchange rate losses.

13. Recognition of general administrative expenses

General administrative expenses represent the company's general management costs, including expenses for wages and salaries of administrative personnel (wages, salaries, allowances, etc.), social insurance, health insurance, labor union fees, unemployment insurance for administrative staff, office material costs, labor tools, depreciation of fixed assets used for administration, land lease payments, business license tax, provisions for doubtful debts, outsourced services (electricity, water, telephone, fax, property insurance, fire and explosion insurance, etc.), and other cash expenses (hospitality, customer conferences, etc.).

14. Recognition of current corporate income tax, deferred income tax expenses

Current corporate income tax

Corporate income tax expense is calculated based on taxable income. Taxable income is different from accounting profit due to adjustments for temporary differences between tax and accounting, non-deductible expenses, adjustments of non-taxable income and transferred losses.

The company is obligated to pay corporate income tax at a rate of 20%.

15. Financial assets

Classification of financial assets

The company classifies financial assets into the following categories: financial assets at fair value on income statement, held-to-maturity investments, loans and receivables, and available-for-sale financial assets. The classification depends on the nature and purpose of the financial asset and is determined at initial recognition.

Financial assets are recognized at fair value through the statement of income

Financial assets that are classified as being recognized at fair value on the income statement if held for trading or classified at fair value on the income statement at the time of initial recognition.

Held-to-maturity investments

Held-to-maturity investments are non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments and fixed maturities that the company intends and is able to hold to maturity.

Loans and receivables

Loans and receivables are non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments and not listed on the market.

Available for sale financial assets

Available-for-sale financial assets are non-derivative financial assets identified as available for sale or not classified as fair value financial assets on the income statement, held-to-maturity investments or loans and receivables.

Initial book value of a financial asset

Financial assets are recognized on the purchase date and derecognised on the selling date. At the time of initial recognition, financial asset is determined at purchase price/issuance cost plus other costs directly attributable costs.

16. Financial liabilities

Financial instruments are classified as financial liabilities or equity instruments at initial recognition based on their nature and definitions

Financial liabilities

The company classifies financial liabilities into categories: financial liabilities at fair value on the income statement, financial liabilities determined by allocated value. The classification depends on the nature and purpose of the liabilities and is determined at initial recognition.

Financial liabilities that are recognized at fair value on the income statement

Financial liabilities are classified as being recognized at fair value on the income statement if held for trading or classified at fair value on the statement at the time of initial recognition.

Financial liabilities are classified as securities held for trading if:

- It is issued or incurred primarily for repurchase in the near term;
- The company intends to hold for short-term profit;
- A derivative (except derivative that is a financial guarantee contract or effective hedging instrument).

Financial liabilities are determined at allocated value

Financial liabilities are determined at allocated value at the initial recognition value minus principal repayments, plus or minus accumulated allocation under the real interest rate method of the difference between the initial recognition value and the maturity value, minus any deductions (either directly or through the use of a contingency account) due to impairment or uncollectibility.

The net interest method calculated the allocated value of one or a group of financial liabilities and distributing the interest income or interest expense in the relevant year. Net rate is the rate at which cash flows are estimated to be paid or received in the future over the intended life of the financial instrument, or a shorter period if appropriate, to return to the present bookkeeping amount of financial liabilities.

Initial bookkeeping value of financial liabilities

At the time of initial recognition, financial liabilities are determined at the issue price plus directly attributable expenses.

Equity instruments

An equity tool is a contract that proves the remaining benefits in the Company's assets after subtracting all liabilities.

17. Related parties

Entities are considered related parties if one entity has control or significantly influence the financial and operating policies of the other. Entities are also considered related if they are under common control or joint significant influence.

When evaluating the relationship between related parties, the substance of the relationship is emphasized over its legal form.

Transactions with related parties during the year are disclosed in Note VII.1

Total	3,309,536,124	2,823,034,145	3,309,536,124	2,823,034,145

The fair value of financial assets and financial liabilities is reflected at the value that the financial instruments could be exchanged for in a current transaction between knowledgeable and willing parties.

The company uses the following methods and assumptions to estimate the fair value:

- The fair value of cash and cash equivalents, accounts receivable from customers, loans receivable, other receivables, borrowings, accounts payable to suppliers, and other short-term payables is equivalent to their book value (net of allowances for estimated uncollectible amounts) due to their short-term nature.
- The fair value of long-term loans receivable, accounts receivable from customers, other receivables, long-term borrowings, accounts payable to suppliers, other long-term payables, and held-to-maturity investments that are not listed on the stock exchange and do not have quoted prices, as disclosed by the three securities companies, is estimated by discounting the cash flows using the interest rate applicable to debts with similar characteristics and remaining maturity.

The fair value of available-for-sale financial assets listed on the stock exchange is determined based on the quoted market price as at the financial year-end date. The fair value of unlisted available-for-sale financial assets is estimated using appropriate valuation techniques.

Notes to the Financial Statements (continued)

4. Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk that one party in a contract is unable to fulfill its obligations, resulting in a financial loss for the company.

The company faces credit risks from its business activities (primarily related to accounts receivable from customers) and financial activities (bank deposits, loans, and other financial instruments).

Accounts receivable from customers

The company minimizes credit risk by only engaging in transactions with entities that have strong financial capabilities, requiring letters of credit for first-time or unknown financial entities, and having the accounts receivable staff regularly monitor outstanding debts to expedite collections. Based on this approach and the fact that the company's receivables are spread across multiple customers, credit risk is not concentrated on any single customer.

Bank deposits

Most of the company's bank deposits are held in large, reputable banks in Vietnam. The company perceives the credit risk concentration for its bank deposits to be low.

5. Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the company faces difficulties in fulfilling its financial obligations due to a lack of cash. The General Director is ultimately responsible for managing liquidity risk. The company's liquidity risk primarily arises from the mismatched maturities of financial assets and financial liabilities.

The company manages liquidity risk by maintaining an appropriate level of cash and cash equivalents, as well as loans, at a level deemed sufficient by the Board of Directors to meet the company's operational needs, thereby minimizing the impact of cash flow fluctuations.

The maturity of financial liabilities is based on the expected contractual payments that have not been discounted as follows:

	Due within one year	Over 1 year to 5 years	Over 5 years	Total
Ending balance
Accounts payable to suppliers	17,206,527	-	-	17,206,527
Other payables	3,292,329,597	-	-	3,292,329,597
Total	3,309,536,124	-	-	3,309,536,124
Beginning balance
Accounts payable to suppliers	10,040,008	-	-	10,040,008
Other payables	2,812,994,137	-	-	2,812,994,137
Total	2,823,034,145	-	-	2,823,034,145

The company believes that the concentration of risk related to debt repayment is low. The company has the ability to meet its maturing debts from cash flows generated by its business operations and funds received from maturing financial assets.

6. Market risk

Market risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate due to changes in market prices. Market risk includes three types: foreign exchange risk, interest rate risk, and other price risks.

The sensitivity analysis presented below is based on the value of net debt, with the ratio between fixed-rate debt and floating-rate debt remaining unchanged.

Foreign exchange risk

Foreign exchange risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate due to changes in exchange rates.

Interest rate risk

Interest rate risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate due to changes in market interest rates.

The company's interest rate risk primarily relates to cash and loans.

The company manages interest rate risk by analyzing market conditions to obtain the most favorable interest rates while staying within its risk management limits.

Other price risk

Other price risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate due to changes in market prices, other than changes in interest rates and exchange rates.

7. Continuous operation ability

Although as of December 31, 2024, the Company's accumulated losses amounted to VND (149,466,454,779), representing 40.02% of shareholders' equity. Additionally, significant provisions have been made for short-term trade receivables, other short-term receivables, long-term receivables, inventories, and long-term financial investments due to impairment. These conditions indicate the existence of material uncertainties that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern.

However, during 2024, the Company actively implemented solutions to advance projects aimed at addressing its financial difficulties. As of December 31, 2024, the Company had no overdue debts that it was unable to settle, and the ratio of Liabilities to Total Assets was 10.91%.

Based on these factors, the Company's General Director believes that the aforementioned issues do not affect the Company's ability to continue as a going concern.

8. Comparative figures
