Stock dilution rating:

Individual stock offerings may pose dilution risks such as: (i) diluting stock prices; (ii) dilute net income per share; (iii) dilute book value per share; (iv) dilute holding and voting rights, specifically as follows:

(i) Dilute stock prices

The sale of individual shares by porridge will not technically affect the price of shares traded on the market. At the same time, the individual offering of shares is limited to transfer for at least 1 year from the time the offering is completed, so the pressure from supply to the market is low, thus having little impact on the outstanding stock price.

(ii) Net income per share dilution risk (EPS)

Net profit per share is calculated using the formula:

$$\text{Adjusted EPS} = \frac{\text{Lợi nhuận sau thuế}}{\text{Số lượng cổ phiếu đang lưu hành bình quân trong kỳ}}$$

After completing the offering, net income per share will be changed downward as the number of outstanding shares increases while profit growth will have a certain lag.

(iii) Risk of dilution of book value

The Company's stock book value is calculated according to the following formula:

$$\text{Stock book value after dilution} = \frac{\text{Vốn chủ sở hữu - Tài sản vô hình}}{\text{Tổng số cổ phiếu sau khi chào bán}}$$

Upon completion of the offer, the book value of each share will be able to decrease in the event that the offer price is lower than the book value of each share at the time of the offer.

However, the EPS and book value per downwardly adjusted share are transient. Because with the capital obtained from the offering, the Company's business activities in the coming time are expected to achieve certain results, creating significant growth momentum in the following years.

(iv) Risk of dilution of holding and voting rights

The offering of additional shares to objects other than existing shareholders also reduces the holding and voting rights of existing shareholders by a proportion corresponding to the further offering rate.

II. Purpose and plan for using capital obtained from the offering

In case the Company successfully conducts an individual stock offering of 10,000,000 shares, the asking price is 10,000 VND/share, the expected amount to be earned from the offering is 152,200,000,000 VND.

2	Supplement working capital for production and business activities rice	50,000,000,000
	Total	152,200,000,000

The General Meeting of Shareholders authorizes the Board of Directors to develop a detailed capital utilization plan, adjust/modify the capital utilization plan and allocate the proceeds from the offering in accordance with the actual business situation of the Company; Decide and/or flexibly adjust the details of the capital use plan, detailed usage items and disbursement time, change the capital use plan, and the amount of money collected from the offering with a variable value of less than 50% of the total amount raised or a larger rate of change if authorized by the General Meeting of Shareholders.
