Financial Statements
The second quarter of 2025

Receivables are monitored in detail by receivable term, receivable subject, original currency, and other factors according to the Company's management needs. The classification of receivables as trade receivables and other receivables is carried out according to the following principles:

- Trade receivables reflect receivables of a commercial nature arising from purchase-sale transactions between the Company and buyers who are independent entities of the Company, including receivables for export sales entrusted to other entities.
- Other receivables reflect receivables of a non-commercial nature, not related to purchase-sale transactions.

2.8. Payables

Payables are monitored by payment term, payable subject, original currency and other factors according to the Company's management needs. The classification of payables as payables to suppliers and other payables is carried out according to the following principles:

- Payables to suppliers reflect payables of a commercial nature arising from transactions of purchasing goods, services, assets and the seller is an independent entity from the Company, including payables when importing through a consignee.
- Other payables reflect payables of a non-commercial nature, not related to transactions of purchasing, selling, providing goods and services.

2.9. Inventories*a. Recognition Principle

Inventory is recognized at cost. If the net realizable value is lower than the cost, it must be recorded at the net realizable value. The cost of inventory includes purchase cost, processing cost, and other directly attributable costs incurred to bring the inventory to its current location and condition.

Assets purchased by the company for production, use, or resale are not presented as inventory on the balance sheet but are classified as long-term assets, including: Work-in-progress with a production or turnover time exceeding a normal operating cycle.

Materials, equipment, and spare parts with a storage period exceeding 12 months or one normal operating cycle.

b. Inventory Valuation Method

The value of inventory at the end of the period is determined using the weighted average method.

c. Inventory Accounting Method

Inventory is accounted for using the periodic inventory system.

d. Inventory Write-down Provision Method

At the end of the accounting period, if the net realizable value of inventory is not recoverable due to damage, obsolescence, a decrease in selling price, or increased completion or selling costs, the company shall establish a provision for inventory write-down. The amount of the write-down provision is the difference between the cost of inventory and its net realizable value.

2.10. Equity

The owner's capital contribution is recognized based on the actual capital contributed by the owners.

Retained earnings reflect the business results (profits, losses) after corporate income tax and the distribution or handling of profits or losses of the Company.

The Company establishes the following funds from the net profit after corporate income tax, based on the recommendation of the Board of Directors and approved by the shareholders at the annual general meeting:

Development Investment Fund: This fund is set up to support the expansion of the Company's operations or to make in-depth investments.

Bonus, Welfare Fund, and Executive Board Bonus Fund: This fund is established to reward and incentivize materially, bringing mutual benefits and improving welfare for employees, and is presented as a liability on the balance sheet.

2.11. Revenue*Revenue from Sales

Revenue from sales is recognized when the following conditions are simultaneously satisfied:

The company has transferred the majority of risks and benefits associated with the ownership of the product or goods to the buyer;

The company no longer retains control over the goods as an owner or manager;

The revenue can be reliably determined;

The company has received or will receive economic benefits from the transaction;

The costs associated with the sales transaction can be identified.

Revenue from Financial Activities

Revenue arising from interest, royalties, dividends, profits received, and other financial income is recognized when both of the following conditions are met:

The economic benefits from the transaction are likely to be realized;

The revenue can be reliably determined.

Other Income

Other income, which is not related to the company's main production or business activities, that has been received, including penalties for contract violations that are certain to be collected (excluding penalties that are essentially price reductions or payment reductions for purchases).

2.12. Cost of Goods Sold

The cost of goods sold for the year is recognized in accordance with the revenue generated during the year and ensures compliance with the prudence principle. Cases of material or inventory wastage exceeding normal standards, costs exceeding usual limits, and losses of inventory (after deducting the responsibility of the relevant individuals or groups) are fully and timely recognized as part of the cost of goods sold for the year.

2.13. Financial Expenses

Financial expenses include costs or losses related to financial investment activities and interest expenses.

These expenses are recognized based on the total amount incurred during the year and are not offset against financial income.

2.14. Selling Expenses, General and Administrative Expenses

Expenses are amounts that decrease economic benefits, recognized at the time the transaction occurs or when there is a reasonable certainty that they will incur in the future, regardless of whether cash has been paid.

Both the expenses and the revenues they generate must be recognized simultaneously according to the matching principle. In cases where the matching principle conflicts with the prudence principle, expenses are recognized based on the nature and regulations of accounting standards to ensure that the transactions are reflected fairly and reasonably.

2.15. Corporate Income Tax

Current Corporate Income Tax Expense

The current corporate income tax expense is determined based on the taxable income for the year and the applicable corporate income tax rate in the current accounting period.

2.16. Earnings per Share

Basic Earnings per Share (EPS)

Basic earnings per share is calculated by dividing the net profit or loss after tax allocated to the common shareholders (after adjusting for the allocation to the Bonus, Welfare Fund, and Executive Board Reward Fund) by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during the year.

Diluted Earnings per Share (EPS)

Diluted earnings per share is calculated by dividing the net profit or loss after tax allocated to the common shareholders (after adjusting for the allocation to the Bonus, Welfare Fund, Executive Board Reward Fund, and dividends of convertible preferred stock) by the weighted average number of common shares that would be issued if all potential dilutive common shares were converted into common shares.
