IV. Summary Of Significant Accounting Policies

1. Basis for preparing consolidated financial statements

The consolidated financial statements include the financial statements of the Company and the financial statements of the companies controlled by the Company (subsidiaries) prepared up to June 30, 2025. Control is achieved when the Company has the power to govern the financial and operating policies of an investee company so as to obtain benefits from its activities.

All transactions and balances between companies within the same group are eliminated when consolidating the financial statements.

2. Financial instruments

The Circular No. 210/2009/TT-BTC dated November 6, 2009, issued by the Ministry of Finance, provides guidance on the application of International Financial Reporting Standards regarding the presentation of financial statements and disclosures for financial instruments, which has not yet been applied by the Company in the presentation of these consolidated financial statements.

3. Types of exchange rates applied in accounting

The exchange rate for converting transactions arising during the period in foreign currency is the exchange rate of the commercial bank where the Company regularly conducts transactions at the time of occurrence.

The exchange rate when revaluating foreign currency items at the time of preparing the consolidated financial statements is the exchange rate announced by the commercial bank where the company opens an account at the time of preparing the consolidated financial statements. In which:

- The exchange rate when revaluating foreign currency items classified as assets is the buying rate of the commercial bank where the Company opens a foreign currency account at the time of preparing the consolidated financial statements.

- The exchange rate when re-evaluating foreign currency items classified as liabilities is the selling rate of the commercial bank where the Company regularly conducts transactions at the time of preparing the consolidated financial statements.

4. Estimates

The preparation of consolidated financial statements in conformity with Vietnamese Accounting Standards, accounting regime for enterprises and legal regulations relating to financial reporting requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets, liabilities and disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the consolidated financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the financial year (reporting period). Although these accounting estimates are based on the management's best knowledge, actual results may differ from those estimates.

5. Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents include cash on hand, demand deposits, short-term investments with original maturities of no more than 03 months, highly liquid, readily convertible to cash and subject to little risk of changes in value.

6. Financial investments

Held-to-maturity investments

Held-to-maturity investments comprise investments that the Company has the positive intent or ability to hold to maturity, including term deposits (commercial bills), bonds, preference shares which the issuer shall redeem at a certain date in the future, loans held to maturity to earn periodic interest and other held-to-maturity investments.

(These notes are an integral part of and should be read in conjunction with the accompanying consolidated financial statement)

Held-to-maturity investments are recognized on the date of acquisition and are initially measured at cost, including the purchase price and any transaction costs. Interest income from investments held to maturity after the acquisition date is recognized in the Income Statement on an accrual basis. Interest earned before the Company holds the investment is deducted from the cost at the acquisition date.

Held-to-maturity investments are measured at cost less allowance for doubtful debts.

When there is strong evidence that part or all of an investment may not be recovered and the amount of loss can be reliably determined, the loss is recorded in financial expenses in the period and directly reduces the investment value.

Investments in subsidiaries, investments in associates

Investments in subsidiaries

A subsidiary is an entity over which the Company has control. Control is achieved where the Company has the power to govern the financial and operating policies of an investee enterprise so as to obtain benefits from its activities

Investments in associates

An associate is an entity over which the Company has significant influence and that is neither a subsidiary nor an interest in joint venture. Significant influence is the power to participate in the financial and operating policy decisions of the investee but not control or joint control over those policies.

Investments in subsidiaries and associates are initially recorded at cost, including the purchase price or capital contribution plus costs directly related to the investment. In case of investment in non-monetary assets, the cost of the investment is recorded at the fair value of the non-monetary assets at the time of arising.

Dividends and profits from periods prior to the purchase of the investment are recorded as a reduction in the value of the investment itself. Dividends and profits from periods subsequent to the purchase of the investment are recorded as revenue. Dividends received in the form of shares are only recorded as the number of shares increased, not the value of the shares received.

Method of making provision for investment depreciation

Provision for losses on investments in subsidiaries and associates is made at the time of preparing the consolidated financial statements. When investments in subsidiaries and associates have decreased compared to the original price, the Company makes provisions as follows:

- For investments in subsidiaries and associates whose shares are listed on the market or whose fair value is reliably determined, provisions are made based on the market value of the shares.
- For investments whose fair value cannot be determined at the reporting date, provisions are made at an amount equal to the difference between the actual capital contributions of the parties at the subsidiaries and associated companies and the actual equity multiplied by the Company's capital contribution ratio compared to the total actual capital contributions of the parties at the subsidiaries and

Increase or decrease in the provision for investment losses in subsidiaries and associates that must be set up at the closing date of the consolidated financial statements is recorded in financial expenses.

7. Receivables

Receivables represent the amounts recoverable from customers or other debtors and are stated at book value less provision for doubtful. The classification of receivables is carried out according to the following principles:

- Trade receivables reflect commercial receivables arising from purchase and sale transactions between the Company.

(These notes are an integral part of and should be read in conjunction with the accompanying consolidated financial statement)

- Other receivables reflect non-commercial receivables not related to purchase and sale transactions.

Provision for doubtful debts is made for overdue receivables stated in economic contracts, contractual commitments or debt repayment commitments that the enterprise has repeatedly requested but has not yet recovered, or receivables that the debtor is unlikely to be able to pay due to liquidation, bankruptcy or similar difficulties.

Increases and decreases in the balance of the provision for doubtful debts that must be set up at the closing date of the consolidated financial statements are recorded in business management expenses.

8. Inventories

Inventories are stated at the lower of cost and net realisable value. Cost comprises direct materials and where applicable, direct labour costs and those overheads that have been incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition.

Net realizable value is the estimated selling price of inventories in the ordinary course of business, less the estimated costs of completion and the estimated costs necessary to make the sale.

Method of setting up inventory price reduction reserve: Inventory price reduction reserve is set up for each inventory item whose original cost is greater than its net realizable value. Increases and decreases in the inventory price reduction reserve balance required to be set up at the closing date of the consolidated financial statements are recorded in the cost of goods sold.

9. Principles of recording and depreciation methods of fixed assets

9.1 Principles of recognition and depreciation methods of tangible fixed assets

Tangible fixed assets are recorded at original cost, reflected on the Consolidated Balance Sheet according to the indicators of original cost, accumulated depreciation and residual value.

The original cost of purchased tangible fixed assets includes the purchase price (minus trade discounts or rebates), taxes and costs directly related to bringing the asset into a ready-to-use state.

The original cost of self-constructed or self-made tangible fixed assets includes the actual cost of the self-constructed or self-made tangible fixed assets and the cost of installation and trial operation.

Expenses incurred after the initial recognition of tangible fixed assets are recorded as an increase in the original cost of the asset when these expenses certainly increase future economic benefits. Expenses incurred that do not satisfy the above conditions are recorded by the Company as production and business expenses in the period.

The Company applies the straight-line depreciation method for tangible fixed assets. Tangible fixed asset accounting is classified according to groups of assets with the same nature and purpose of use in the Company's production and business activities, including:

Type of fixed asset	Thời gian khấu hao (năm)
Buildings and structures	06 - 30
Machinery and equipment	03 - 15
Motor vehicles	06 - 10
Office equipment	05 - 10

9.2 Principles of recognition and depreciation methods of intangible fixed assets

Intangible fixed assets are recorded at original cost, reflected on the Consolidated Balance Sheet according to the indicators of original cost, accumulated depreciation and residual value.

The original cost of intangible fixed assets includes all costs incurred by the Company to acquire the fixed assets up to the time the asset is ready for use. Expenses related to intangible fixed assets incurred after initial recognition are recognized as production and business expenses in the period, unless these expenses are associated with a specific intangible fixed asset and increase the economic benefits from these assets.

(These notes are an integral part of and should be read in conjunction with the accompanying consolidated financial statement)

When fixed assets are sold for liquidation, their original cost and accumulated depreciation are written off and any gain or loss arising from their disposal is recognized as income or expense for the period.

The Company's intangible assets are computer software, virtual servers and drug formula.

Software program

Costs relating to computer software programs that are not an integral part of the related hardware are capitalized. The cost of computer software is the total cost incurred by the Company up to the date the software is put into use. Computer software is amortized on a straight-line basis over 08 years.

10. Principles for recording construction in progress costs

The Company's construction in progress costs include the construction costs of the EU GMP standard pharmaceutical factory project, the Noi Bai freight forwarding and transit center, which are recorded at historical cost. These costs include construction costs, services and other related costs in accordance with the Company's accounting policy.

11. Prepayments

Prepaid expenses include actual expenses that have been incurred but are related to the results of production and business activities of many accounting periods. Prepaid expenses are costs of tools and equipment issued for use awaiting allocation, repair costs and other prepaid expenses.

Tools and equipment: Tools and equipment put into use are allocated to expenses using the straight-line method over a period of 03 months to 36 months.

Fixed asset repair costs: One-time asset repair costs of large value are allocated to expenses using the straight-line method over a period of no more than 36 months.

Other prepaid expenses: Other prepaid expenses incurred once with large value are allocated to expenses by the straight-line method over a period of no more than 36 months.

12. Payables

Liabilities are amounts payable to suppliers and others. Liabilities include trade and other payables. Liabilities are not recorded as less than the obligation to pay.

The classification of payables is carried out according to the following principles:

- Trade payables include commercial payables arising from transactions of purchasing goods, services, assets and the seller is an independent entity from the buyer.
- Other payables include non-commercial payables not related to the purchase, sale or provision of goods or services.

Payables are monitored in detail by each subject and payment term. Foreign currency payables are re-evaluated by the Company at the end of the period or year at the selling exchange rate of the Joint Stock Commercial Bank for Foreign Trade of Vietnam - Hanoi Branch.

13. Loan recognition principles

Loans are recorded on the basis of bank documents, contracts and loan agreements. Loans are monitored by subject and term.

14. Principles of recognition and capitalization of borrowing costs

Borrowing costs include interest and other costs incurred in connection with borrowing.

Borrowing costs are recognized as production and business expenses in the year when incurred, unless capitalized in accordance with the provisions of the Accounting Standard "Borrowing costs". Accordingly, borrowing costs directly related to the purchase, construction or production of assets that require a relatively long time to complete and put into use or business are added to the original cost of the asset until such time as the asset is put into use or business. Income arising from temporary investment of loans is recorded as a reduction in the original cost of the related assets. For separate loans for the construction of fixed assets, investment real estate, interest is capitalized even when the construction period is less than 12 months.

15. Principle of recording accrued expenses

The Company's accrued expenses include pre-deducted interest expenses, auditing expenses... which are actual expenses that have arisen in the reporting period but have not been paid due to lack of invoices or insufficient accounting records and documents, recorded in the production and business expenses of the reporting period and payables that have not arisen due to lack of recorded goods and services but are calculated in advance into the production and business expenses of this period to ensure that when they actually arise, they do not cause sudden changes in production and business expenses.

(These notes are an integral part of and should be read in conjunction with the accompanying consolidated financial statement)

The provision for production and business expenses in the period must be calculated strictly and there must be reasonable and reliable evidence of the expenses that must be provisioned in the period, to ensure that the amount of expenses payable recorded in this account matches the actual expenses incurred.

16. Principle of equity recognition

Owner's equity is recorded according to the actual capital contributed by shareholders.

Share premium is recorded at the larger difference between the actual issue price and the par value of shares when issuing shares.

Undistributed profit after tax is the profit from the business's operations after deducting the current year's corporate income tax expense.

Profit after corporate income tax is distributed to shareholders after setting aside funds in accordance with the Company's Charter and legal regulations and approved by the General Meeting of Shareholders.

The distribution of profits to shareholders takes into account non-monetary items in undistributed profits after tax that may affect cash flow and the ability to pay dividends such as interest from revaluation of contributed assets, interest from revaluation of monetary items, financial instruments and other non-monetary items.

Dividends are recognized as liabilities when approved by the General Meeting of Shareholders.

17. Principles and methods of revenue and income recognition

The Company's revenue includes revenue from sales of materials, semi-finished products (injections, pills, etc.), revenue from providing services (entrusted import-export services; office rental, warehouse rental) and interest revenue from bank deposits.

Revenue from sales of goods and finished products

Revenue from the sale of goods and finished products is recognized when all five (5) following conditions are simultaneously satisfied:

- The Company has transferred to the buyer the significant risks and rewards of ownership of the products or goods;
- The Company no longer holds the right to manage the goods as the owner of the goods or the right to control the goods;
- Revenue is determined with relative certainty. When the contract stipulates that the buyer has the right to return the purchased products or goods under specific conditions, revenue is only recognized when those specific conditions no longer exist and the buyer is not entitled to return the products or goods (except in cases where the customer has the right to return the goods in exchange for other goods or services);
- The Company has obtained or will obtain economic benefits associated with the transaction; and
- Identify the costs associated with a sales transaction.

Service revenue

Revenue from a service transaction is recognized when the outcome of the transaction can be reliably measured. In cases where a service transaction involves multiple periods, revenue is recognized in a period based on the results of the work completed at the closing date of the financial statements of that period. The outcome of a service transaction is determined when all four (4) of the following conditions are satisfied:

- Revenue is measured reliably; When a contract provides that the buyer has the right to return the purchased services under specific conditions, revenue is recognized only when those specific conditions no longer exist and the buyer has no right to return the services provided;
- It is possible to obtain economic benefits from the transaction of providing that service;
- Determine the portion of work completed at the closing date of financial statements; and
- Identify the costs incurred for the transaction and the costs to complete the transaction to provide that service.

Interest Revenue

Interest is recognized on an accrual basis, determined on the deposit account balance and the actual interest rate for each period.

Advances from customers are not recognized as revenue during the year.

The Company's other income includes income from liquidation of fixed assets and other income.

(These notes are an integral part of and should be read in conjunction with the accompanying consolidated financial statement)

18. Principles of financial cost accounting

Financial expenses recorded in the separate income statement are total financial expenses incurred during the period, not offset against financial revenue, including interest expenses and exchange rate differences.

19. Other accounting principles and methods

19.1 Tax obligations

Value Added Tax (VAT)

The Company applies VAT declaration and calculation according to the guidance of current tax laws.

Corporate income tax

Corporate income tax represents the sum of current and deferred tax liabilities.

The tax currently payable is based on taxable profit for the year. Taxable profit differs from net profit as reported in the income statement because it excludes items of income or expense that are taxable or deductible in other years (including losses carried forward, if any) and it further excludes items that are not taxable or deductible.

The company applies a corporate income tax rate of 20% on taxable income.

The determination of the Company's corporate income tax is based on current tax regulations. However, these regulations are subject to change from time to time and the final determination of corporate income tax depends on the results of the examination by the competent tax authority.

Other taxes

Other taxes and fees must be declared and paid by the enterprise to the local tax authorities according to current tax laws in Vietnam.
