- The exchange rate applied when recognizing and revaluing assets is the buying rate of the commercial bank where the Company regularly transacts;

- The exchange rate applied when recognizing and revaluing liabilities is the selling rate of the commercial bank where the Company regularly transacts.

  Transactions in foreign currencies are recorded at the actual transaction exchange rate on the transaction date. Differences in exchange rates arising during settlement are recognized in the income statement for the period. Balances of monetary items, receivables, and payables denominated in foreign currencies, except for prepayments to suppliers, prepaid expenses, and deferred revenue in foreign currencies, are exchanged into the reporting currency at the actual transaction exchange rate on the balance sheet date. The net difference in exchange rates arising from the revaluation of foreign currency balances at the end of the period are recognized in profit or loss for the period.

3.2 Cash and Cash equivalents

Cash and Cash equivalents include Cash on hand and Cash in banks.

3.3 Financial investments

Held-to-maturity investments

Held-to-maturity investments include items such as term deposits.

Investments in equity of other entities

Investments in subsidiary

An investment is classified as an investment in a subsidiary when the Company has control over the policies and operations, usually demonstrated by holding more than 50% of the voting rights.

Investments in subsidiaries are reported at cost, including the purchase price and any directly related costs of investment (if any). In the case of investments using non-monetary assets, the cost of the investments is recorded at the fair value of the non-monetary assets at the time of the transaction.

Dividends and profits distributed in the period after the investment date are recognized as financial income at fair value on the receivable date.

Other investments are reported at cost, including the purchase price and any directly related costs. If the investment is made with non-monetary assets, the cost of the investment is recognized at the fair value of the non-monetary assets at the transaction date.

Method for provisioning for devaluation in financial investment

For long-term financial investments

At the time of preparing financial statements, for other investments that are not listed securities or registered for trading on the domestic stock market and are not freely traded securities on the market, a loss allowance for other investments is made when there is a basis indicating a decrease in value compared to the enterprise's investment value, with the level of provision in accordance with the provisions of Circular No. 48/2019/TT-BTC dated August 08, 2019 of the Ministry of Finance, but not exceeding the actual investment value being recorded in the accounting books.

3.4 Receivables

Recognition principle

Receivables, including trade and other receivables, are presented at their book value after deducting allowances for doubtful debts.

Principle for provisioning for doubtful debts

At the reporting date, a provision for doubtful debts is established for overdue receivables and receivables not yet due but likely to be uncollectible on time. The provision is made in accordance with Circular No. 48/2019/TT-BTC dated August 8, 2019, of the Ministry of Finance and the assessment of the Board of Directors to ensure that the value of receivables does not exceed the recoverable amount.

Increases or decreases in the allowance account balance are recognized in general administrative expenses on the income statement.

3.5 Inventories

Recognition principle for Inventory

Inventories are recorded at the lower of cost and net realizable value.
The cost of inventories includes all purchase costs, conversion costs and other costs incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition. For manufactured products, the cost includes all direct material costs, direct labor costs and general production costs based on usual operation.

The purchase cost of inventories includes the purchase price, non-refundable taxes, transportation costs, handling charges, storage costs during the purchasing process and other costs directly related to the acquisition of inventories. Trade discounts and provision for devaluation of inventories due to non-conforming or substandard goods are deducted from the purchase cost.

Net realizable value is the estimated selling price less the estimated costs of completion and the estimated costs of marketing, selling and distribution.

Valuation method of Inventory

The cost of inventories is determined by the FIFO method.

Accounting method of Inventory

Inventories are accounted for using the perpetual inventory method.

Accounting method of provision for devaluation in inventories

At the reporting date, provision for devaluation of inventories is made for damaged, deteriorated, obsolete, slow-moving inventories and inventories with a book value higher than the net realizable value with the provision made in accordance with the guidance in Circular No. 48/2019/TT-BTC dated August 8, 2019, of the Ministry of Finance to ensure that the value of inventories does not exceed market value.

Increases or decreases in the allowance for inventory obsolescence are recognized in the cost of goods sold on the income statement.

The provision for devaluation of inventories is determined on an item-by-item basis.

Raw materials, supplies and tools reserved for production purposes are not provided for if the products they contribute to will be sold at or above their production cost.

3.6 Tangible fixed assets

Tangible fixed assets are presented at cost less accumulated depreciation.

Initial recognition and measurement principle

The cost of tangible fixed assets includes the purchase price and all costs directly related to bringing the assets to a ready-to-use condition.

Depreciation method

The cost of tangible fixed ASSETS is depreciated using the straight-line method over the ASSETS' estimated useful life.

The estimated useful lives for certain asset categories are as follows:

• Buildings and architectural structures	10 – 20 years
• Machinery and equipment	06 – 30 years
• Transportation and transmission equipment	06 – 10 years
• Office equipment	04 – 07 years
• Other assets	10 – 20 years

3.7 Intangible fixed assets

Intangible fixed assets are reported at cost less accumulated amortization..

Initial recognition and measurement principle

Cost represents all expenditures incurred by the company to acquire the intangible fixed asset up to the point it is ready for its intended use.

Accounting principles for intangible fixed assets

Land use rights

Land use rights with indefinite useful lives are not amortized.

Computer software

Computer software that is not an integral part of the related hardware is recognized as an intangible asset and amortized over its useful life.

3.8 Leases

Classification of leases

A financial lease is a lease that transfers significant risks and rewards incidental to ownership of an asset to the lessee. All other leases are classified as operating leases.

Finance leases

Leased assets under financial leases are recognized as assets and liabilities on the balance sheet at the same amounts equal to the fair value of the leased asset at the starting date of the lease.

If the fair value of the leased asset exceeds the present value of the minimum lease payments, the latter is used for recognition.

Lease payments under finance leases are apportioned between finance charges and reduction of the lease principal. Finance charges are allocated to each accounting period during the lease term at a constant periodic rate of interest on the remaining balance of the liability for each period.

Assets acquired under finance leases are depreciated using the straight-line method over their estimated useful lives, similar to owned assets, in case of the lease term is shorter, specifically as follows:

Tran Quoc Toan Industrial Park Infrastructure	40 years

Operating leases

Lease payments under operating leases are recognized as operating expenses on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

3.9 Construction in progress

Assets under construction for production, rental, administrative or other purposes are recorded at cost. This cost includes related service charges and borrowing costs, recognized in accordance with accounting policy of the Company. Depreciation of these assets, similar to other assets, commences when the asset is available for use.

3.10 Prepaid expenses

Prepaid expenses are classified as current and non-current based on their original terms and primarily relate to the cost of tools, equipment, and prepaid land lease payments. These expenses are depreciation over the prepayment period or during the period which economic benefits are expected to be realized.

3.11 Liabilities

Liabilities are classified as payables to sellers and other payables according to the principle: Payables to sellers are payables of a commercial nature arising from transactions of buying and selling goods, services, assets, and the seller is an entity independent of the buyer; The remaining payables are classified as other payables.

Liabilities are tracked by original term, remaining term at the reporting Date, by original currency, and by counterparty.

Liabilities are recognized at no less than the obligation to pay.

3.12 Borrowing costs

All other interest expenses are recognized in the income statement as incurred.

3.13 Accrued expenses

Accrued expenses represent future payment obligations related to goods and services received from vendors during the reporting period but not yet paid due to missing invoices or incomplete accounting documentation. These are recognized in the cost of production or sales during the reporting period.

3.14 Equity

Contributed capital

Contributed capital is recorded based on the actual capital contributed of the shareholders.

Profit distribution

Net profit after corporate income tax may be distributed to shareholders after approval by the General Meeting of Shareholders and after allocations in compliance with Vietnamese law.

3.15 Revenue and other income

Revenue from sales

Revenue from sales is determined based on the fair value of amounts received or to be received receivable. In most cases, revenue is recognized when the significant risks and rewards of ownership are transferred to the buyer.

Revenue from service rendered

Revenue from service rendered is recognized when the outcome of the transaction can be reliably estimated. For service transactions spanning multiple periods, revenue is recognized in each period based on the completed portion at the balance sheet date.

Interest income

Interest income is recognized on an accrual basis, determined by the outstanding balance of deposit accounts and the applicable interest rate.

3.16 Revenue deductions

Revenue deductions include returned goods.

Revenue deductions occurring in the same period as the sale are offset against revenue in that period. Deductions occurring after the sales period but before the financial statement release date are offset against revenue in the reporting period. Deductions occurring after the sales period and after the financial statement release date are offset against revenue in the period the deduction occurred.

3.17 Cost of goods sold

Cost of goods sold and services rendered represents the total cost incurred for finished goods, merchandise, services, and investment properties sold during the period, in accordance with revenue recognition principles.

3.18 Financial expenses

Financial expenses reflect the expenses incurred during the period, mainly including interest expenses.

3.19 Selling and General & Administrative expenses

Selling expenses reflect the actual costs incurred in the process of selling products, goods, and providing services, including labor, fuel, fixed asset depreciation, advertising and transportation costs.

General & administrative expenses reflect the general management costs of the company, including expenses for salaries of administrative staff (salaries, wages, allowances, etc.); social insurance, health insurance, trade union funds, unemployment insurance for administrative staff; office supplies, tools, depreciation of fixed assets used for business administration; land rent, license fees; allowance for doubtful accounts; outsourced services (electricity, water, telephone, fax, etc.); and other cash expenses (hospitality, etc.).

3.20 Taxes

Current corporate income tax (CIT) expense

Current CIT expense is determined based on taxable income and the current year's CIT rate of 20%.

Value added tax

Value added tax of goods and services provided by the Company is calculated at a tax rate of 10%.
Land use rights transfer: Not subject to tax.
According to Resolution No. 174/2024/QH15 passed by the National Assembly Standing Committee on November 30, 2024, the Company is entitled to apply the VAT tax rate of 8% to finished products sold during the year as prescribed from January 01, 2025 to the end of June 30, 2025.

Other taxes

Applied in accordance with current tax laws in Vietnam.

The Company's tax reports will be subject to inspection by the tax authorities. As the application of tax laws and regulations to many different types of transactions can be interpreted in many different ways, the amount of tax presented on the financial statements may be changed according to the final decision of the tax authorities.

3.21 Related parties

Related parties are enterprises or individuals who, directly or indirectly through one or more intermediaries, control, are controlled by, or are under common control with the Company.

Affiliated companies, individuals directly or indirectly holding voting rights in the Company leading to significant influence over the Company, key management personnel including directors and executive officers of the Company, close family members of these individuals, or companies affiliated with these individuals are also considered related parties.
